

What percentage commission can an estate agent charge?

The percentage agreed upon between the seller and the estate agent. If no specific percentage was agreed, the courts will normally accept that the parties tacitly made the average commission for that area (for ex. 7.5%) applicable.